

This resource published by the California Department of Education describes strategies to ensure that all students can be successful in the general education program. Entitled Student Success Teams: Supporting Teachers in General Education, the publication details what has been learned in schools throughout California when they provide assistance in the regular classroom for students at risk of school failure: When a site-based, collaborative team of teachers, specialists, parents, and the student meet to focus on the needs of the student, a path to successful learning is created. The publication illustrates how teachers can work with local experts, students, and parents to develop tactics that empower students to play an active role in their education. Thoughtful implementation of Student Success Plans can mean the difference between a student “slipping through the cracks” and a student successfully learning the curriculum.
